HOW TO BECOME A GREAT HITTER

Champion Baseball Player Tells Secret of Batting.

GEORGE

STONE'S ADVICE.

Explains Just the Way to Swat the Leather With Wagon Tongue-Down to a Science.

George Stone, champion batter of the American league, and considered by many the greatest batter in baseball today, has told in his own words the essentials of becoming a good batter. Stone's work with the St. Louis Browns last season with the St. Louis Browns last season was sensational. He is still young and has a great future ahead of him. Besides being the greatest batter in the league, he is an aimost perfect fielder and probably the fastest base runner on the diamond today. Following is Stone's own story of how to hit the ball:

When a ball player attempts to tell other players how to become a slugger he is up against a pretty difficult proposition. Right at the start he numps against the fact that natural ability has a whole lot to do with it. Of course a player can improve his ability to send the ball where it will entitle him to a ticket to first, but unless he is a "born hitter" he's not going to get to the top, in my opinion at least.

But there are a good many things that will help even a poor batter.

Probably the most important is to have confidence in himself. If he comes to the plate thinking "That pitcher's an easy mark for me," the chances are away in favor of getting a good crack at the ball.

One should always keep his eye and ball.

One should always keep his eye and brain in good condition by the right kind of living. Booging and late hours are not in the same day with base hits.
Following the ball all the way from the pitcher's hand is one thing I find helps me. Trying to get a line on where the hall is going by picking it up with the eye when it is part way to the plate is confusing. TAKES LONG CHANCES.

I occasionally go after a ball that is not directly over the plate. If a nit is needed it sometimes pays to take changes. A ball may be just wide enough to force the umpire to call it a ball and yet a step of a few juches would enable one to swar a ball exactly to his liking.

But if I would simmer it all down to a reentence, I would say, "Keep your nerve."

a sentence, I would say, "Keep your nerve."

Another system that I use and which I notice several other players using is what I might call "looking the ball square in the face." To do this I have to crouch over the plate so that my eves are almost directly on a line with the middle of the plate. Then I watch the middle of the plate. Then I watch the mitcher as he winds up and I see the ball the instant it leaves his mand. If it is traveling straight for my head I am ready to biff it, for I know it is coming directly over the pan. One does not need to keep his head there long enough for any danger. I simply stand that way to be sure and see the ball correctly at the very start of its journey from the pitcher to the catcher.

FOLLOWS THE BALL.

FOLLOWS THE BALL.

As soon as it begins its course my eyes are gued on it and my bat is drawn back already to strike, whether it is a good or a bad ball. The bad ones are allowed to pass, and if a good one comes one is all ready to strike it. I find the system has dont much to help my batting.

However, this system might not help others. Take Lajoie, for insatnce. He stands perfectly erect when at the bat, so that his line of vision is a foot or more to one side of the plate and yet he sugest which are good and which are bad from a different angle from that I use. Hans Wagner, I have noticed, crouches almost as much as I do in order to be sure and see the ball. It is not important in what position one may stand in waiting for the throw, but it is important that the batter get his eye on the ball as soon as it leaves the pitcher's hand.

Another point that ball players should develop is sprinting. I trained for months and still keep it up A fast man will make a great many safe hits during a season, just by being speedy enough to beat the ball to first base. This often occurs where a shortstop or third baseman fumbles for an instant a ground ball. That instant is sufficient for the runner to beat the ball to first if he started to sprint as soon as the ball was hit. It takes a shortstop with a good arm also to beat the runner if the ball has been hit to deep short.

IS NATURAL BATTER.

IS NATURAL BATTER. Is NATURAL BATTER.

I think batting is natural for me. I could always hit the ball, even when playing in boys' games years ago. I had to learn to be a fielder, but batting was a gift of nature.

Back in 1901 I was working a farm, and playing ball on the side once or twice a week in a small town called Selix. A manager at Biencoe, Iowa, orfered me a chance to break into minor league ranks.

The Biencoe team was to play at Onawa at a Woodmen's picnic, against the Whiting team. Teams in that section were in the habit of "plugging up" against each other. In other words they would get players from Omaha or other cities.

We got a tip that Whiting was going would get players from Omaha or other cities.

We got a tip that Whiting was going to have several players from Omaha, and our manager wired Will Rourke, manager of the Omaha Western league team, to send us a buttery. He sent Buckley and Alloway, and what we did to those Whiting boys was a shame. We walloped them 11 to 2.

I played shortstop and put up a stargame at the bat and in the field, according to Bcukley. The result was I signed with Chama that fall. My first

"I was taken with eplieptic fits; had eleven in less than 12 hours. My father sent for our family physician but he could do very little for me, and I grew worse every day, and at last they had three doctors with me, and I still got worse. My father heard of Dr. Miles' medicines and bought a bottle of Nervine and a box of Nerve that Liver Pills. I had taken only a few doses until I began to feel better, I took 12 bottles, and it cured me sound and well. It has been worth all the world to me. I recommend it wherever I go. PHYSICIAN FINDS the Skin—Many Cures Reported.

The medical world is stirred by the great number of eczema cures now being effected with the method discovered by a prominent skin specialist, Dr. D. Dennis of Chicago. Several years ago Dr. Dennis announced to the medical world that when the skin is diseased, it is curable through the skin alone, and that if the patient is in good health otherwise, it is nonsense to dose the stomach of a person suffering from eczema, psoriasis, or any kindred aliment.

Dr. Dennis compounded a prescription of vegetable mixtures, perfectly harmless, soothing and refreshing to the skin, and quickly eradicating the disease. This prescription has now been put up in bottles and may be secured direct from drug stores.

Many wonderful reports have been coming in from all parts of the country and some right from this city as to the remarkable cures affected by Dr. Dennis's prescription, especially when it is used in connection with D. D. D. soap. This paper is able today to print the following:

"I am pleased to be able to inform you that two bottles of your Prescription have affected complete cure of the eczema which I have suffered on the soles of my feet for several years, that was contracted in south Florida."—M. B. Henry, 429 Watkins Street, Augusta, Ga.

WILL BE NO DIVISION ENCAMPMENTS THIS YEAR.

Washington, March 6 .- Apst. Secy Oliver has notified the governors of the various states and territories which have an organized militia force, that it has been found necessary to omit for this year the con-templated annual brigade and di-vision encampments for the intemplated annual brigade vision encampments for the instruction of the infantry, cavalry and field artillery of the regular army, as many posts will be depleted by reason of the absence of about 6,000 troops in the considerable number at the Cuba, considerable number at the Jamestown exposition and the move-ment of a large portion of the army to ment of a large portion of the army to the Philippines.

In lieu thereof camps of instruction for the coast artillery of the army will be established during the season of 1907 and the national guard of the various states contiguous thereto will be invited to take part in the development of the problems involved in the defense of the seasoast. Invitations will shortly be issued to the governors of the seaboard states interested, specifying in detail the forces desired to carry out the proposed problems. The camps probably will be held in July and will last from one week to 10 days.

SENATOR BEVERIDGE FOR CENTRALIZATION.

New York, March 5.—Senator Beveridge, addressing a banquet of the Indiana association here tonight, made a vigorous defense of a centralized government, as against the doctrine of states' rights.

"The states," he said, "could not make internal improvements, so the nation made them: the states could not make the scattering of obsence literature, so the nation did it; the states could not suppress lotteries, so the nation did it; the states could not end the poisoning of the people by adulterated food, so the nation is ending it; the states could not compel the sanitation of packinghouses, the inspection of meats, so the nation is compoling it; the states could not preserve the country's forests, so the nation is preserving them: the states could not irrigate the arid west, so the nation is working that glorious and heautiful miracle; the states cannot end the murderous infamy of child labor, so the nation is going to do it; and, this is for the saving of the nation.

"The states cannot attend to the buccaneers of business, and so the nation is to control them, and this is for the benefit of the enormous majority of all business men who are not buccaneers.

"The Constitution is our 'ordinance of national life,' and not the articles of our national death. It was meant to free the hands of the American people and not to shackle them. Marshall so interpreted it in the countric idamber; Grant so Interpreted and thus obeying the will of the American people."

ECZ:MA CURE DOUMA PETITION FOR FULL AMNESTY

> Wants it for All Political Offenders Except Those Guilty of Actual Murder.

> RESULT IS PROBLEMATICAL.

Emperor's Reception of M. Golovin, President of Lower House, Creates Favorable Impression.

St. Petersburg, March 6 .- The presentation by the lower house of parliament of an unanimous petition for amnesty for all political offenders except hose guilty of actual murder, probably will result from an conference of the Conservative deputies held tonight. It was decided to support any reques made by the Liberal members for the pardon of all persons imprisoned or expardon of all persons imprisoned or ex-iled for revolutionary agitation, or propaganda, whose hands were not ac-tually stained with blood. The Rad-icals desire to make this demand in-clude those guilty of murder, but, in order to secure a unanimous vote, probably will consent to a separation of the two classes and present an ap-peal for the terrorists as a separate peal for the terrorists as a separate motion.

The Constitutional Democratic central committee also held an important meeting today to hear the report of M. Golovin, president of the lower house, on his audience with Emperor Nicholas, and to consider the Socialist protest against the candidacy for the vice presidency of the lower house of M. Teslinsko. The emperor's cordial reception of M. Golovin created an excellent impression on the committee and dispelled the lingering fears that the governing body was seeking only a good opportunity to disperse this second parliament. It is evident that the emperor is not vexed at the refusal of the Radical deputies to honor his name in the opening ceremonies by rising.

The Associated Press is informed that the tone of Premier Stolypin's declaration to parliament is temperate but firm. It lays down the exact limits to which the cabinet is prepared to go, and outliens with considerable detail the program of legislation which he desires enacted.

The Constitutional Democratic central committee decided to persist with the candidacy of M. Teslinsko, and that Embarrassing the Authorities.

London, March 6.—The woman suffragists by insisting upon martyrdom are placing the authorities in an embarrassing position. Mrs. Despard, a sister of Gen. French, and several of her fellow agitators were released from prison today after a term of confinement for participation in the recent agitation at the house of commons.

James Keir-Hardie, M. P., presided today at a public breakfast given in honor of these women. Several of the suffragists delivered speeches in which they announced their purpose of forcing the authorities to keep them in prison by committing breaches of the peace whenever opportunity is offered, until such time as suffrage legislation is enacted.

There is no better rule for good health than that is bowels should move every day at the same hour if possible. Regularity can be acquired by making a habit of this, Foolish people neglect this and when chronic constipation effects them they take pills every few days to force the bowels to perform their natural function. As years go on they require more and more pills. This should be stopped. Cooper's New Discovery will build up the stomach and cause the bowels to act naturally. While taking the medicine get the habit of regularity, then gradually stop taking the medicine. Here is a sample of letters from those who have tried it:

"For 15 years I have suffered from stomach and liver trouble, and chronic constipation. I had frequent headaches and always feit tired and worn out. I heard of Cooper's New Discovery and began its use. After I had finished one bottle I was wonderfully improved.
